

Starting your career in law

Internships

Harris Kyriakides LLC considers applications from enthusiastic and motivated law students who work for a limited amount of time in a professional environment at a law firm in Cyprus. Work experience schemes vary in length, ranging from a week to a calendar month and provide a taste of life as a lawyer in a leading law firm.

You can watch a video of our internship experience below.

General Information

The participants have the opportunity to get involved in legal work, conduct legal research, take part in training and attend court appearances. These internship schemes also enable participants to decide whether or not a career in law is right for them, as well as learn more about us.

Starting your career in law

As a leading law firm offering the full range of corporate and commercial legal services, we strive to invest in talented, highly motivated and committed graduates. In return, we offer an excellent working environment, challenging experiences and opportunities, possibility to specialise in specific areas of law, a clear career path and an attractive remuneration package.

In the course of a traineeship, we provide high standards of education and practice. Trainees are expected to learn and adhere to the firm's standards, policies and culture and absorb knowledge and experience in day to day application of the law. They are given the opportunity to participate in meetings, trials and firm's projects. During the year, we recognise the trainees' strengths and weaknesses and we provide feedback on areas of improvement. Based on performance, many of our trainees are offered a place at the firm as Junior Associates upon completion of their traineeship. Law graduates who start a career with us can be assured that we will assist them to evolve in order to achieve their full potential.

Law graduates with a strong academic background (University degree obtained with Merit/2.1 or above) are encouraged to apply. Candidates must be fluent in English and Greek and be computer literate.

The Trainning programme

Seats

Upon selection, candidates will receive a traineeship offer, which will contain all relevant information about the company and the department they will be placed in.

Traineeship period

Trainees are encouraged to start their traineeship during the summer period so that they can attend special workshops and seminars from various supporting departments of the firm, e.g. Information Technology, Human Resources, Litigation Support, etc., and they become familiar with the policies and practices of the Firm. Trainees are placed in their respective departments and are fully ready to join their department by the last Monday of August each year.

Trainees will be assigned a supervisor, who they will shadow, and will share an office with one of the members of the team. This will give an opportunity to ask questions related to tasks and to spend time working with lawyers in various practice areas and understand daily routines.

Assessment

Trainees will be assessed by their supervisor and Head of Department in terms of their performance and whether they can cope with both daily tasks and the projects assigned to them. This assessment will help the Firm to make a decision on whether the trainee lawyer shall be offered permanent employment.

Application Details

If you are interested in joining our team and you comply with the minimum requirements necessary for each career category, please specify in your application the career opportunity for which you would like to be considered.
